INDEX

A

Aalders, G. C., article by, 393–405.
Animism, Does the Old Testament Contain Traces of, note on, 484.
Anstey's, M., Romance of Bible Chronology, noticed, 508.

B

Ballard's, F., Miracles of Unbelief, noticed, 350.
Bates, W. H., article by, 38–63.
Batten's, L. W., Ezra and Nehemiah, noticed, 164.
Beach, H. H., article by, 269–274.
Berle, A. A., article by, 548–572.
Books Received, 174, 511.
Bridgman, H. A., article by, 425–433.
Brierley's, J., Religion and Today, noticed, 171.
Buchanan, E. S., note by, 474–478.
Buckham's, M. H., Very Elect, noticed, 172.
Burch, E. W., note by, 490–493.

C

Caldecott's, W. S., Herod's Temple, noticed, 503.
Carr, E. S., article by, 283–295; book review by, 680–686.
Carson's, J. F., Word of Authority, noticed, 504.
Caverno, C., note by, 145–149.
Caverno's, C., Reminiscences of the Eulogy of Rufus Choate on Daniel Webster, noticed, 508.
Christ, The Full Divinity of, note on, 145.
Christ's Estimate of Human Personality, article on, by L. Reddin, 132–144.
Church in Modern Life, The Leadership of the, article on, by H. A. Bridgman, 425–433; pessimistic view, 425; church not a mere business organization, 427; competition of other forces, 428; the church and education, 429; importance of unseen things, 431; prevalence of sorrow, 432.
Colorado Mine War, The, article on, by A. A. Berle, 548–572; the situation, 548; State responsibility, 550, 571; irresponsibility of miners, 550, 565; basis of inference, 554; the naked truth, 555; mine conditions, 556; deposits in savings banks, 558; attitude of the operators, 559; cause of the strike, 560; what unionizing involves, 563; character of the miners, 564; bloodshed and the militia, 567; present issue, 569; bibliography, 572.
Congregationalism, Twentieth-Century, article on, by H. A. Stimson, 1–18; evolution of the National Council, 1; Council of 1913, 2; Declaration of Faith, 3; Commission on Missions, 5; new officials, 6; early Congregationalism, 7; Pilgrims, 9; Boston Association of 1705, 11; denominational gathering of 1852, 12; church and state in New England, 14; extreme individualism, 16; the early Christian churches, 17.
Conversion, The Psychology of, article on, by E. G. Lane, 406–424; definition, 407; views of James, 408; of Dr. Mullins, 409; the gospel minimized,

INDEX

A

Aalders, G. C., article by, 393–405.
Animism, Does the Old Testament Contain Traces of, note on, 484.
Anstey's, M., Romance of Bible Chronology, noticed, 508.

B

Ballard's, F., Miracles of Unbelief, noticed, 350.
Bates, W. H., article by, 38–63.
Batten's, L. W., Ezra and Nehemiah, noticed, 164.
Beach, H. H., article by, 269–274.
Berle, A. A., article by, 548–572.
Books Received, 174, 511.
Bridgman, H. A., article by, 425–433.
Brierley's, J., Religion and Today, noticed, 171.
Buchanan, E. S., note by, 474–478.
Buckham's, M. H., Very Elect, noticed, 172.
Burch, E. W., note by, 490–493.

C

Caldecott's, W. S., Herod's Temple, noticed, 503.
Carr, E. S., article by, 283–295; book review by, 680–686.
Carson's, J. F., Word of Authority, noticed, 504.
Caverno, C., note by, 145–149.
Caverno's, C., Reminiscences of the Eulogy of Rufus Choate on Daniel Webster, noticed, 508.
Christ, The Full Divinity of, note on, 145.
Christ's Estimate of Human Personality, article on, by L. Reddin, 132–144.
Church in Modern Life, The Leadership of the, article on, by H. A. Bridgman, 425–433; pessimistic view, 425; church not a mere business organization, 427; competition of other forces, 428; the church and education, 429; importance of unseen things, 431; prevalence of sorrow, 432.
Colorado Mine War, The, article on, by A. A. Berle, 548–572; the situation, 548; State responsibility, 550, 571; irresponsibility of miners, 550, 565; basis of inference, 554; the naked truth, 555; mine conditions, 556; deposits in savings banks, 558; attitude of the operators, 559; cause of the strike, 560; what unionizing involves, 563; character of the miners, 564; bloodshed and the militia, 567; present issue, 569; bibliography, 572.
Congregationalism, Twentieth-Century, article on, by H. A. Stimson, 1–18; evolution of the National Council, 1; Council of 1913, 2; Declaration of Faith, 3; Commission on Missions, 5; new officials, 6; early Congregationalism, 7; Pilgrims, 9; Boston Association of 1705, 11; denominational gathering of 1852, 12; church and state in New England, 14; extreme individualism, 16; the early Christian churches, 17.
Conversion, The Psychology of, article on, by E. G. Lane, 406–424; definition, 407; views of James, 408; of Dr. Mullins, 409; the gospel minimized, 411; Christian psychology of conversion, 412; the new birth, 413; need of supernatural agency, 415; this supernatural power personal, 417; necessity of Christ's death, 419; conversion conditioned on faith, 421; practical hints, 422.

Critical Notes, 145–149, 474–493, 665–679.

Cummings, G. M., article by, 381–392.

D

Dahse, J., articles by, 95, 331.

Dahse's, J., Gegenwärtige Krisis in den alttestamentlichen Kritik, noticed, 694.

Denio's, F. B., Supreme Need, noticed, 167.

Dennis's, J. S., Modern Call of Missions, noticed, 507.

Deuteronomy, Stray Notes on, article on, by H. M. Wiener, 466–473; the text of Deuteronomy, 466; glosses, 467; tables of readings in xxix.–xxx., 468; explanation of glosses, 472.

Documentary Theory Tenable, Is the, article on, by J. Dahse, 95–104, 331–342; admissions of Gressmann, 95; usage of the divine names, 97; admissions of Dr. Skinner respecting new evidence, 98; the LXX, 98; the uncertainty of the Hebrew text, 100; the divine names, 102; admissions of Professor Bewer respecting the unity of Judges, 103; Wellhausen's self-condemnation, 331; failure of Astruc's clue, 332; Wellhausen's dependence on Gen. xxvi. 34 f.; xxviii. 8 f.; xxxvi. 1–19, 332; confusion of the text, 333; corrected text removes difficulties, 335; the LXX represents a Hebrew original, 339; Dr. Skinner's discomfiture, 342.

Dorner's, A., Metaphysic des Christentums, noticed, 169.

Driver on the Names of God in the Pentateuch, Dr., note on, 478.

E

Esther, Addition to the Sum of Revelation, found in the Book of, article on, by G. O. Little, 19–37; recent books on, 19; double plot, 20; the acts of Haman and Mordecai, 21; the Feast of Purim, 23; absence of miracle, 27; miraculous providences, 28; Act I., 30; Act II., 33; no trivial circumstances, 35.

F

Fawkes's, A., Studies in Modernism, noticed, 343.

Fox, F., article by, 582–592.

G

Gairdner's, J., Lollardy and the Reformation in England, noticed, 346.

Galloway's, G., Philosophy of Religion, noticed, 494.

Geiser, F. C., translations by, 95–104, 331–342, 678.

Geiser, K. F., article by, 177–191; note by, 671–674.

Genung, J. F., article by, 353–380.

Giving, The Law and the Gospel of, article on, by F. Fox, 582–592; tithe older than history, 582; threefold law, 583; tithing volutary, 584; silence of the early church, 585; the gospel of giving, 586; Paul's three principles, 588; the gift of one's self, 589; conclusions, 591.

Gladden's, W., Present Day Theology, noticed, 680.

Good's, J. I., History of the Swiss Reformed Church Since the Reformation, noticed, 498.

Gospel Study, The Irreducible Minimum, A Study of, article on, by J. F. Genung, 358–380; methods of interpretation not a finality, 353; present-day efforts to discover irreducible minima of fact, 355; the subjective method adverse to the supernatural, 357; this method analyzed and accounted for, 360; fallacy of postulating a static and unvital fact, 365; of estimating authenticity of record by nearness in time, 370; corrections of time and of more spiritual vision, 373.
Griffis's, W. E., Hepburn of Japan, noticed, 349.
Gurnhill's, J., Spiritual Philosophy, noticed, 496.

H

Hall, G. E., book reviews by, 347–351, 498–501, 507, 509, 696–697.
Hastings's Encyclopedia of Religion and Ethics, noticed, 497.
Hayes's, D. A., Most Beautiful Book Ever Written, noticed, 164.
Hazelton, G. W., article by, 573–581.
Holdsworth's, W. W., Gospel Origins, noticed, 165.
Holmes's, S., Joshua, noticed, 690.
Hume's "Essay on Miracles," "Studies in Theology" and, article on, by F. J. Lamb, 105–131; McGiffert's indorsement of Hume, 105; refinements on Hume, 106; former replies, 107; Hume's later revision, 108; issues of fact, 109; Greenleaf's answer, 110; Ancient Document rule, 111; the Gospels, depositions, 113; testimony of Jesus, 114; Peter's deposition in Acts ii. 22, 116; evidence of general consent, 117; philosophy of Hume's "Essay," 119; confusion of ideas, 120; laws of nature not violated, 122; sophistical dealing, 123; Huxley's answer to Hume, 125; Hume's suppositions, 127; defects of Hume, 128; jural science vindicated, 130.
Hunt's, T. W., English Literary Miscellany, noticed, 173.
Hutton's, W. H., Disciple's Religion, noticed, 350.

I

Illustration, An Apt, note on, 149.
"Improved Edition" of the Holy Bible, noticed, 347.
Indulgences, The Doctrine of the Catholic Church Touching, article on, by H. Pope, 296–330; definition, 296; power of the keys, 298; rewards and punishments, 301; works of supererogation, 302–322; St. Thomas Aquinas upon, 303; Albertus Magnus on, 304; papal bulls, 306; indulgences and Purgatory, 307; Alexander of Hales on, 309; the doctrine not immoral, 311; selfish motives not involved, 314; the rich can gain no advantage, 315; efficacy of indulgences, 317; abuses of indulgences, 319; sins of ignorance, 323; abuses to be expected, 325; Luther's position, 327; the doctrine safeguarded, 329.
Investigator, Should a Teacher also be an, article on, by C. W. Super, 534–547; few unexplored archives, 534; Ph.D. at German universities, 535; misnamed research work, 536; modern works on Greek literature, 538; influence of the English universities, 540; culture defined, 541; colleges in former days, 543; Gayley quoted, 545; endowed universities, 547.

J

Jastrow's, M., Hebrew and Babylonian Traditions, noticed, 686.

Jews and Race Survival, articles on, by E. M. Merrins, 64–79, 192–217, 434–457; the passing of the nations, 64; the stock of the nations, 67; the homes of the nation, 76; the birth rate of a nation, 192; the weaklings and wastrels of the nation, 196; the health of a nation, 202; religion of the nation, 434; service to the nation, 439; the education of the children of the nation, 448; the future of the Jewish nation, 451.

Job, The Book of, article on, by G. W. Hazelton, 573–581; a lawyer's argument, 573; the author known, 574; Jewish traditions trustworthy, 575; Pentateuchal parallelisms, 576; object of the book, 577; work of a masterly mind, 578; admission into the canon, 580; reasons for anonymity, 580.

K

König, Ed., reply to, 593–664; statement by, 678.

L

Lamb, F. J., article by, 105–131.

Lane, E. G., article by, 406–424.

Law's, R., Tests of Life, noticed, 498.

Leviticus, Studies in the Septuagintal Texts of, [conclusion of] articles on, by H. M. Wiener, 80–94.

Lincoln, The Religious Opinions and Life of, article on, by W. H. Bates, 38–63; misrepresentations concerning, 38; rank as a statesman, 41; charges of infidelity, 42; counter assertions, 43; early history, 44; incidental evidence, 46; Dr. Gulliver's testimony, 47; church attendance in Washington, 49; defense of Father Chiniquy, 51; Mr. Bateman's testimony, 53; farewell words at Springfield, 54; scenes on the way to Washington, 55; prayers of Lincoln, 57; tribute by Justice Harlan, 58; reasons for not uniting with the church, 60; religious confession, 61; summary, 62.

Lindsay, J., book reviews by, 169–171, 494–496.

Lindsay's, J., Psychology of Belief, noticed, 352; Critical Essay on European Literature, noticed, 352.

Little, G. O., article by, 19–37.

Logos, Paul's Doctrine of the, article on, by G. M. Cummings, 381–392; favorite of John, 381; Paul's use of the term, 381; five tests, 382; grammatical, 384; the context, 385; theological, 386; use in Paul's Epistles, 387; prevalent doctrine of, 389; Philo's doctrine of, 390; sundry arguments, 391.

M

McGiffert's, A. C., "Studies in Theology," article on, 105.

Mediæval Church, The Civilizing Influence of the, article on, by W. W. Sweet, 458–473; importance of Christianity, 458; successor to the Roman Empire, 459; rise of the temporal power, 460; Charlemagne's empire, 461; the Benedictines, 462; monasteries and education, 463; mistakes of Protestantism, 464.

Mercer's, S. A. B., Extra-Biblical Sources for Hebrew and Jewish History, noticed, 501.

Merrins, E. M., articles by, 64–79, 192–217, 434–457.

Milligan's, G., St. Paul's Epistles to the Thessalonians, noticed, 510.

Moffatt's, J., New Testament, noticed, 348.

Moore's, G. F., History of Religions, noticed, 168.

Moulton's, J. H., Early Zoroastrianism, noticed, 502.

N

New Testament Quotation of a Twice-Repeated Prophecy, The, article on, by H. A. Sanders, 275–282; Isa. xl.3–8; Mal. iii. 1, quoted, 275; tables of variation, 277; discussion of the tables, 280.

Notices of Recent Publications, 150–176, 343–352, 494–512, 680–697.

O

Old Testament, Does the, Contain Traces of Animism, note on, by J. H. de Vries, 484–489.

P

Paul in Prison at Ephesus, Was St., note on, 490.

Pentateuch and Textual Criticism, The Wellhausen Theory of the, article on, by G. C. Aalders, 393–405; prevalence of, 393; recent changes of opinion, 394; textual criticism, 395; work of Wiener and Dahse, 396; work of Klostermann, 397; conspiracy of silence, 398; Skinner's dilemma, 399; failure of Astruc's clue, 401; no other substantial argument, 403; weakness of subjective arguments, 404.

Pentateuch, Historical Criticism of the, article on, by H. M. Wiener, 593–664; true method, 593; textual criticism an historical science, 594; the Pentateuch a legal document, 595; the Tent of Meeting wrongly identified by König, 596; the true view, 601; Ex. xxxiii. 7–11 misplaced, 602; recovery of the original historical narrative, 605; the story of Joseph, 607; glossing of the M. T., 608; loose habits of the Massoretes, 609; preversional textual corruption, 611; the place of sacrifice, 612; interpretation of Ex. xx. 24, 613; three kinds of sacrifices, 615; an altar not a sanctuary, 616; the house of the Lord, 617; linguistic arguments, 618; archaic characteristics, 619; influence of euphony, and of abbreviations, 622; marks of style, 623; evidence of Mosaic authenticity, 624; the laws profess to be Mosaic, 625; their form Mosaic, 626; historical conditions, 627; political, religious, and social conditions, 628; economic, intellectual, and legal conditions, 629; history of the M. T., 630; margin of the M. T., 632; fixing the text, 633; the Nash papyrus, 634; confirmation of the LXX, 635; other Hebrew evidence, 636; change of script, 638; variations in the Decalogue, 640; importance of the Vulgate for textual criticism, 642, 645, 648, 649, 662, 667; new light on Jerome's texts, 643, 647; new edition of the Vulgate, 644, 647; illustrations of textual corruption, 647; arguments against the Vulgate, 649; alternative texts, 652; glosses in the M. T., 654; LXX and the Lyons Heptateuch, 655; text of Num. xv. 11–16, 657; instances of Vulgate improvement on the M. T., 661; pronouns for substantives, 662; Professor Pope's investigations, 663; bibliography, 664.

Pentateuchal Text, the Divine Appellations, and the Documentary Theory, The, article on, by H. M. Wiener, 218–268; a reply to Dr. Skinner, 218; the Samaritan Pentateuch, 219; relation to M. T. and LXX, 220; Gesenius's error, 222; divergences between the LXX and the Sam and M. T., 224; origin of these, 226; transmission of the M. T., 228; the Nash papyrus, 230; quantitative and qualitative arguments, 231; concluding chapters of Exodus, 232; superior readings in the LXX, 233; text in the time of Jeremiah, 234; the M. T. and the archetypal theory, 235; the M. T. that of a single imperfect codex, 238; Greek MSS. representing Hebrew originals, 240; the M. T. and the Vulgate, 241; Professor Pope on, 242; Jerome's testimony, 243; M. T., uncritical, 244; LXX represents an older text, 247; textual history, 247; LXX and the Divine appellations, 248; M. T. and the Divine appellations, 250; Professor Pope's investigations, 253; Hontheim's, 254; inferior readings of M. T., 257; readings of 1 Sam. i. 20, 259; of Gen. xxxii. 29, 31, 261; Divine appellations and the documetary theory, 264; by no means the only evidence, 267.

Personality, Christ's Estimate of the Human, article on, by L. Reddin, 132–144; personality incapable of valuation, 132; man not simply a means, 133; the equality of all men, 134; dynamic aspect of personality, 135; Godward functioning of the soul, 136; intellectual activity, 137; the feelings, 139; volitional activity, 141; appeals to the higher spiritual self, 144.

Petre's, D. M., Autobiography and Life of George Tyrrell, noticed, 150.

Pick, B., book review by, 505.

Plumb's, A. H., When Mayflowers Blossom, noticed, 697.

Politics, Clergyman in, notes on, 665–674.

Politics, the Minister in, article on, by K. F. Geiser, 177–191; recognition of political science, 177; neglect of, 178; data for conclusions, 179; views of President Eliot and Professor Wright, 181; crude theories, 182; Christianity and Islam, 183; evils of the union of church and state, 184; the nobility of the church's ends, 185; differences as to means, 186; temperance legislation, 187; the National Council in 1913, 188; fundamental principles, 189; untried experiments, 191.

Pope, H., article by, 296.

Pope's, H., Catholic Student's "Aids" to the Bible, noticed, 163.

Psychology of Conversion, The, article on, E. G. Lane, 406–424.

R

Rashdall's, H., Philosophy and Religion, noticed, 495.

Reddin, L., article by, 132–144.

Robertson's, A. T., Grammar of the Greek New Testament in the Light of Historical Research, noticed, 694.

Robinson's, F., Self-Limitation of the Word of God, noticed, 697.

Rolt's, C. E., World's Redemption, noticed, 506.

Royce's Philosophy of Religion, article on, by E. S. Carr, 283–295; supposed orthodoxy of, 283; career, 284; Hegelianism of, 285; Hegelian doctrine of immortality, 286; Royce's "Religious Aspect of Philosophy," 287; his progress, 289; conception of immortality, 290; ideal of the Beloved Community, 292; left-handed patronage, 294.

Rutherfurd's, J., St. Paul's Epistles to Colossæ and Laodicea, noticed, 510.

S

Sanday and Moderism, Dr., note on, 474.

Sanders, H. A., article by, 275–282.

Science and Revelation, Present Aspects of the Relations between, article on, by G. F. Wright, 513–533; facts and theories, 513; mind and matter, 514; scientific knowledge never absolute, 515; uncertainties of science, 516; catastrophes in nature, 517; floods of the Glacial period, 519; variations of glaciers, 520; history not a physical science, 521; civil wars of science, 522; opposition of scientific men, 523; mistakes of scientific men, 524; evolution ill-defined, 525; Darwin's view of Spencer, 527; theism of Asa Gray, 528; Huxley's dogmatism, 529; real proofs of theism, 530; more knowledge needed, 531; scientific confirmations of the Bible, 532.

Septuagintal Texts of Leviticus, studies in the, [conclusion of] articles on, by H. M. Wiener, 80–94; textual groups B, F, qu, 80; other groups, 83; Hesychian readings, 84; summary, 86; tables, 88; additional information, 483.

Skinner, J., reply, 218–268.

Slattery's, M., Girl and her Religion, noticed, 509.

Smith's, P., Luther's Correspondence and Other Contemporary Letters, noticed, 350.

Sociological Morals, article on, by H. H. Beach, 269–274; society not an organism, 269; conduct is not an evolution, 270; promiscuous biology, 273; standards of morals, 274.

Spence, W. H., note by, 665–671.

Stanton's, H. C., Telepathy of the Celestial World, noticed, 500.

Stimson, H. A., article by, 1–18.

Strong's, A. H., Popular Lectures on the Books of the New Testament, noticed, 696.

Super, C. W., article by, 534–547.

Sweet's, L. M., Study of the English Bible, noticed, 505.

Sweet, W. W., article by, 458–465.

Szekely's, S., Bibliotheca Apocrypha, noticed, 505.

T

Thomas, W. H. G., book reviews by, 150–156, 343–347.

Thomas's, W. H. G., Holy Spirit of God, noticed, 351.

Toy's, C. H., Introduction to the History of Religions, noticed, 168.

Tucker's, E. C., Later Version of the Wycliffite Epistle to the Romans, noticed, 504.

Tucker's, L. E., Readings from the Old Testament, noticed, 349.

V

Vries, J. H. de, note by, 484–489.

W

Walker's, W. L., Christ the Creative Ideal, noticed, 166.

War, The, note on, 675–678.

Wiener, H. M., articles by, 80–94, 218–268, 466–473, 553–664; book reviews by, 156–163, 686–694; notes by, 478–484.

Wilm's, E. C., Problem of Religion, noticed, 167.

Winstanley's, E. W., Jesus and the Future, noticed, 166.

Woods's, H. G., At the Temple Church, noticed, 509.

Wright, G. F., article by, 513–533; note by, 675–678.